Numb. 3300

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Thursday June 24. to Monday June 28. 1697.

Vienna, June 19. N. S.

THE last Letters from Hungary tell us, that several Regiments were arrived at Verismarton, the place appointed for the General Rendezvous of the Imperial Army, and the rest of the Forces were on their march thither; The Galleys and other Vessels which are to serve on the Danube, are putting into a readiness to attend the motions of the Army, and to secure the Convoys of Provisions that are sent to them by Water, wherein they were found very useful during the last Campaigns. The Turkish Army is like to come late into the Field this Summer, the last advices from the Frontiers giving an account, that the Sultan and the Grand Visier would not set out from Adrianople till the 10th of this month, and perhaps might deferr their departure sometime longer, to expect the Asiatick Troops who were not yet arrived, tho' several Expresses had been dispatched from the Port to hasten their march. The Moscovite Envoy, who came lately to this Court, took his Leave two days ago, in order to his departure for Venice; and the Great Embassy from the Czar is shortly expected here. They write from Transilvania, that the Imperial Troops quartered in that Country were going to Encamp; and that they understood from Valachia, that the Tartars were drawing all the Force they could together, to defend their Country against the Moscovites, and that they expected a great Assistance from the Turks. We make no doubt but the Siege of Bihatz in Croatia is begun before this time.

Francfort, June 27. The Confederate Forces encamped the 18th of this month at Bruchsal, and on the 22th Prince Lewis of Baden arrived in the Camp; the next day he took a Review of the Army, consisting in 49 Battalions of 800 Men each, and 120 Squadrons, and having held a Council of War, 'twas resolv'd, as we are told, that the Army should march towards the Rhine, and endeavour to pass that River; in which case the Forces at present posted at Costheim near Mentz are to join them. The French Army was by our last advice encamp'd near Wormes; and 'tis reported, that the Mareschal de Choiseul expects a reinforcement from Flanders.

Cologne, June 28. Letters from Ratisbonne of the 24th of this month, advise, that the Dyet of the Empire having resolved to send a solemn Deputation to the Treaty in Holland, they had caused their Powers and Instructions to be drawn up, and delivered to the Imperial Commissioner, in order to be transmitted to the Emperor for his Approbation.

Hamburgh, June 28. The last Letters from Stockholme say, the Court of Sueden had resolved to set a Fleet to Sea this Summer, and to send over some Forces to Pomerein, for the assistance of the Duke of Holstein, if there be occasion; but it's hoped there will not, and that Matters will be amicably adjusted between the King of Denmark and the said Duke. The Danish Forces have begun to demolish the three Forts they lately made themselves Masters of, and so soon as that is done will march back to their Quarters. The Letters from Coningsberg the 19th, give an account of the departure of the Moscovite Ambassadors, in order to Embark at the Pillau: The Account of the Czar's being himself Incognito with this Embassy, comes from so many hands, that no doubt seems now to be made of it; but we must stay for the next Letters from those Parts, to be informed whether the Czar be returned home by the Narva, or whether he comes on with the Ambassadors to Lubeck, as some report. The Dyet of Poland have at last chosen their Marshal; The French pretend he is inclined to their Interest; and the Queen-Dowager appears to be likewise well satisfied with the Choice; but perhaps 'twill not be very much in his Power to influence Matters one way or other.

Paris, June 28. The Letters do not come very regularly from Catalonia, by reason the Spanish Miquelets, who are possessed of the Mountains, do often intercept our Couriers; The last account is, that Barcelona was Invested the 12th, and the Trenches opened the 16th at Night. There is a strong Garison in the Town, and the Prince of Hesse Darmstat commands the German Forces, but Don Piementel is Governor, (as he was formerly of Charleroy) and the Vicroy, Don Francisco de Velasco, is with his Spanish Army posted behind the River Lobregat, their number about 8000 Foot and 4000 Horse. The French Forces are reckoned to be above 30000, commanded by the Duke de Vendosme; and the Count d'Estree lies in the Road with 9 Men of War, 30 Galleys, and 3 Bomb Vessels, besides the Tenders and other Vessels that brought from Provence the Artillery, Ammunition and Provisions for the Army. They report here, that the Prince of Conti's Party is very strong in Poland, by means of the great Sums of Money that have been distributed there, but withal the opposition against him is very great; and there is reason enough to believe, the Election will not pass very quietly. The Parlement of Paris has Published a Sentence against the Chevalier d'Auvergne and the Chevalier de Quelus, who fought a Duel some time ago, and thereupon fled out of the Kingdom, by which they are Condemned to be Beheaded when taken. The Prince of Conde, with his Son the Duke de Bourbon are going to Burgundy, to hold the States of that Country. There is yet no News come of Monsieur Nesmond's passing the Streights, which confirms the Opinion that he is not gone thither. They continue to fit out several Ships at Brest and Rochefort.

Brussells, June 30. The King of England came hither the 28th in the Afternoon, to Visit the Electoress of Bavaria, and afterwards returned to his Camp near Anderlecht. The French Armies are still in their former Camps, where they Intrench themselves; 'Tis said, the Marquis de Harcourt with